YOU AT

BECOME YOUR BEST

AT INDIANA UNIVERSITY BLOOMINGTON
Become your best at the college where you can have it all Explore your passions in top programs. Join a spirited community. Investigate, travel, create, and lead. Chart and start on your path to success. In short, be a Hoosier.

explore
The IU education, including 200+ majors

belong
Life in our spirited family of engaged students

succeed
Experiences and guidance for a great career and life

apply
How to apply, costs, and scholarships
LEADING THE WAY IS THE HOOSIER WAY

What will you do at IU? Our seemingly endless opportunities empower you to create your ideal college experience. Start by exploring our many majors.

What’s a Hoosier? “Hoosier” is a nickname for natives or residents of Indiana, and for members of the IU community. Here at IU, Hoosiers are marked by their curiosity, spirit, hard work, and desire to help others and improve the world.
Discover your academic passions. IU offers 200+ majors that you can mix and match.

Visit the school websites for more information, and check out the complete list of areas of study, including minors: go.iu.edu/iu-majors
Jacobs School of Music
music.indiana.edu
One of the world’s top music schools, the Jacobs School trains performers, educators, and other professionals who influence music globally.

The school presents more than 1,100 concerts, recitals, operas, and ballets each year in world-class facilities.

Analog Audio Electronics*
Ballet
Composition
Early Music—Instrumental and Vocal
Jazz Studies
Music Education
Performance
Recording Arts
String Instrument Technology

You can also earn a B.S. in Music and an Outside Field, with a major in Ballet, Composition, Jazz Studies, or Performance.

Kelley School of Business
kelley.iu.edu
At Kelley, you’ll gain the business intelligence, confidence, and resilience required for success.

Accounting
Business Analytics (co-major only)
Economic Consulting
Entrepreneurship and Corporate Innovation
Finance
Information Systems
International Business (co-major only)
Law, Ethics, and Decision Making (co-major only)
Management
Marketing
Operations Management
Professional Sales
Public Policy Analysis
Real Estate
Supply Chain Management
Sustainable Business (co-major only)
Technology Management (co-major only)

School of Education education.indiana.edu
The school’s programs offer cutting-edge technology, innovative teaching methods, in-depth content, and diverse teaching experiences, including international student teaching opportunities.

All School Settings (K–12), with content fields in:
- Chinese Education
- French Education
- German Education
- Japanese Education
- Latin Education
- Music Education
- Physical Education
- Russian Education
- Spanish Education
- Visual Arts Education

Early Childhood Education (Pre-K–3)
Elementary Education (K–6)
Elementary Education (K–6)—Exceptional Needs
Secondary Education (6–12), with content fields in:
- Chemistry Education
- Earth-Space Science Education
- Exceptional Needs Education
- Health Education
- Journalism Education
- Language Arts/English Education
- Life Science/Biology Education
- Mathematics Education
- Physics Education
- Social Studies Education
- Theatre Education

School of Informatics and Computing
soic.indiana.edu
The school’s versatile programs blend technology, innovative teaching methods, in-depth content, and diverse teaching experiences, including international student teaching opportunities.

School of Nursing
www.indiana.edu/~nubnurse
This degree will prepare you to be a professional nurse who can work in a variety of settings and who understands society’s health needs. You’ll also have a foundation for graduate study.

Nursing

School of Public and Environmental Affairs
spea.indiana.edu
At SPEA, students examine big ideas while gaining the leadership and management skills employers seek in government, the nonprofit sector, business, environmental science and policy, healthcare, and the arts.

- Arts Administration*
- Arts Management
- Environmental and Sustainability Studies
- Environmental Management
- Environmental Science
- Environmental Studies*
- Healthcare Management and Policy
- Human Resource Management
- Law and Public Policy
- Management
- Nonprofit Leadership-Alliance* (externally awarded)
- Nonprofit Management*
- Nonprofit Management and Leadership
- Policy Analysis
- Public Affairs*
- Public Financial Management
- Public Health*
- Public Management*
- Public Management and Leadership

See how your major can translate into a career:
cdc.indiana.edu/possibilities

School of Public Health-Bloomington publichealth.indiana.edu
You’ll be ready for a career in the in-demand public health profession, working in a spectrum of positions, with a focus on health promotion and quality of life.

- Athletic Training
- Community Health
- Dietetics
- Environmental Health
- Exercise Science
- Health Education—Secondary Teacher Preparation
- Health Fitness Specialist
- Human Development and Family Studies
- Martial Arts*
- Nutrition Science
- Outdoor Recreation, Parks, and Human Ecology
- Public, Nonprofit, and Community Recreation
- Recreational Sport Management
- Recreational Therapy
- Safety
- Safety Management*
- Sport Communication—Broadcast
- Sport Communication—Print
- Sport Marketing and Management
- Teacher Preparation—All Grade (Physical Education)
- Tourism, Hospitality, and Event Management
- Underwater Resource Management*
- Youth Development

School of Social Work
socialwork.iu.edu
You’ll learn to shape solutions to a wide range of interpersonal and social problems, especially in your yearlong senior practicum, when you’ll work more than 560 hours for human service organizations.

- Labor Studies
- Social Work

* Certificate Only   Associate Degree   Jointly administered by the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Public and Environmental Affairs
Go exploring, with expert guides

The IU education is for the seriously curious. You’ll dive into the fields and activities that excite you, encounter ideas that intrigue you, and graduate ready to own your future. Leading you on this journey of discovery: our accomplished faculty.

Explore everything the IU education has to offer: go.iu.edu/iu-education

Professor Heather A. Hundley and undergrad Emily Wheeler were on a team that identified a protein that enhances RNA editing and affects gene expression—a discovery that could lead to better treatment of diseases.
Meet some of the faculty who might shape your IU education—and your life

Virtuoso violinist Joshua Bell has recorded more than 40 CDs, has won a Grammy, and tours the world playing with prestigious orchestras. He’s also an IU alumnus.

Adrian Matejka, a 2014 Guggenheim Fellow, wrote The Big Smoke, which was a finalist for the 2013 National Book Award in poetry and the 2014 Pulitzer Prize in poetry. His courses include The Poetics of Rap.

Carolyn Goerner runs the Young Women’s Institute for high school students interested in business, researches mentoring, and advises a club that helps women business students find and become mentors.

Digital archaeologist Bernie Frischer is one of the first academics to use 3-D computer modeling to reconstruct cultural heritage sites. He led the development of a virtual world that models the Roman emperor Hadrian’s Villa at Tivoli, Italy.

Ellen Wu studies issues of race, citizenship, immigration, and nation. Her book The Color of Success explores how Asian Americans came to be considered “model minorities.”

Health economist Kosali Simon serves on an advisory committee for the nation’s largest philanthropy, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and has conducted groundbreaking research on the impact of the Affordable Care Act.

Journalism professor Tom French is a master storyteller and a Pulitzer Prize winner, which makes him the perfect coach for students in the Hearst National Journalism Awards Championship for writing. IU students won it in 2011, 2013, and 2015.

Learn from a top diplomat at a top school of international studies

When Lee Feinstein, the dean of our School of Global and International Studies, is offering you career advice during his “Dean Drop-In Hours,” he’s drawing on more than two decades of experience in diplomacy and foreign affairs.

In addition to serving as the U.S. ambassador to Poland, he’s worked for two secretaries of state, a secretary of defense, and the Brookings Institution. He’s also a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.
Where will your explorations take you?

To the edge of knowledge about Huntington’s disease or open-cluster star systems? To the headquarters of a Fortune 500 company? To an immersive visit to another culture, or the bottom of the Caribbean Sea? At IU, your answer can be, “All of the above—and more.”
Seize these opportunities

Conduct research with faculty mentors—in programs like Integrated Freshman Learning Experience (IFLE) or Science, Technology, and Research Scholars (STARS), or by working in a lab—and maybe even get your name on a published study or two: go.iu.edu/iu-research

Choose among 300 overseas study programs in a variety of locations and languages, open to all majors: overseas.iu.edu

Challenge yourself in the Hutton Honors College, which offers stimulating seminars; scholarships; and grants for research, international experiences, and creative activity: www.indiana.edu/~iubhonor

Stretch your creativity by exhibiting in the Grunwald Gallery of Art; writing for a literary magazine or the Indiana Daily Student; or performing music, theatre, dance, or comedy: go.iu.edu/iu-creativity

Prepare for advanced study and a career in law, medicine, or health through the Health Professions and Prelaw Center: hpplc.indiana.edu

Find your ideal combo of majors and minors (pages 2–3), or create your own—such as sustainable development, violin making, or underwater archaeology—in our Individualized Major Program: go.iu.edu/iu-imp

Go forth and make discoveries

The Hutton Honors College regularly hosts distinguished visitors like Nobel Prize–winning physicist David Wineland and primatologist Sarah Hrdy.

Jaeson Chang and his pre-med classmates showed up in Panama with 20 suitcases of medication. They set up a clinic in the small community of Portuchada, where families could see a doctor and a dentist for free check ups. Jason took blood pressure and other vitals so the doctors could work more efficiently. He made a few new friends (top) by practicing the Spanish speaking skills he had been learning since middle school.

2,200+
IU students study abroad each year
What does the perfect college campus look like? THIS. Life in our spirited family of engaged students.
Bloomington is the college town

Bloomington has so much you can do. Eat international cuisine on Fourth Street. Shop on Kirkwood Avenue. Ease into Saturday mornings at the farmers’ market. See thrilling concerts and touring shows. Explore miles of trails and three lakes. You won’t be able to do all of it in four years. Guess you’ll just have to come back.

#9 quirkiest town in America
Travel & Leisure, 2014

#5 best city for educated millennials
Business Insider, 2015

B-TOWN, YOUR NEW FAVORITE PLACE

Plan a visit. Our campus is even more beautiful in person: go.iu.edu/visit-iu
Residence halls: your home at IU

New students are required to live on campus. You’ll make your first IU friends in the residence halls and become part of a community. You’ll also be more successful academically because you’ll have access to resources like tutoring at the Academic Support Centers.

Life is good at IU. Learn about housing, student involvement, and more: go.iu.edu/lu-life
Our 25 dining locations—such as the Restaurants at Woodland, with nine tasty micro-restaurants—have something for all preferences and diets. You can even order online.

student organizations
Join them, start them, get invaluable leadership experience.

Grow as a leader
Your opportunities to build your leadership skills begin in your residence hall and extend all over campus—and beyond.

- Improve IU as a member of the IU Student Association executive branch or congress.
- Join one of our 70+ fraternities and sororities, and attend retreats for Greek community leaders.
- Plan campus events and activities as a member of Union Board.
- Participate in school-level programs like SPEA’s Washington Leadership Program or the Center of Excellence for Women in Technology (CEWiT).

750+

learning communities
Live with other students who share one of your interests, like media, the outdoors, or performing arts.

20+

LIVE. LEAD. LEARN.
ALL IN ONE PLACE.

Like all learning communities, the Civic Leaders Living-Learning Center includes a required course—this one is taught by Paul Helmke, former mayor of Fort Wayne and president of the Brady Campaign/Center to Prevent Gun Violence. Residents also meet leaders ranging from politicians to human rights lawyers, and take a trip to Washington, D.C.

belong
Life in our spirited family of engaged students
IU is more than a university—it’s a spirited, candy-striped-pants-wearing family

Our championship-caliber athletics are big, but there’s more to the infectious IU spirit. The traditions, the arts and culture, the countless ways to get involved—they all deepen your education and lead to lifelong friendships.

Something else that lasts a lifetime: your membership in Hoosier Nation.
IU must-dos

- Learn all the words to “Indiana, Our Indiana”
- Attend an opera at the Musical Arts Center
- Cheer on the “Hoo-Hoo-Hoo-Hoosiers!” in our 24 varsity sports, which range from basketball to water polo—many of which you can see for free
- Lift your luck by touching the hand of the Herman B Wells statue
- Hear a lecture or see a show at the IU Auditorium
- Dance for 36 hours to raise money for Riley Hospital for Children during Dance Marathon
- Go to the IU Art Museum at night and watch the light totem’s changing hues
- Attend our world-famous Little 500 bicycle races

See the full IU Bucket List—the things you should experience before graduating: fye.indiana.edu

TRADITIONS
YOU’LL REMEMBER FOREVER

1,500+
performances per year
Many star IU students.

Life in our spirited family
of engaged students

Candy stripes will look great on you.
What do you want to do with your life?
We’ll help you decide and make it happen.

Whether you’ve always known what you want to do or the question gives you chills, we’ll help you discover (or confirm) what you love, get experience in it, and turn it into a career.

95% of IU seniors feel they’ve acquired job- or work-related knowledge and skills
Career centers at every step of your education

From your first day on campus, our career advisors will guide you through our nine-step career exploration process, which you’ll experience at two career centers.

First, the Career Development Center (CDC)

If you start as an exploratory student or change your major like many students, the CDC will help you understand yourself and what you want in life, explore your options, and start getting real-world experience. cdc.indiana.edu

Next, the career center in your chosen school

After you declare a major, you’ll work with the career experts in your IU school. Tap into their industry-specific knowledge and employer relationships to choose your career path, build marketable experience, prepare for your job search, and launch your career. cdc.indiana.edu/centers

The revolutionary IU Career Guides connect your major to possible careers and offer tips for how to break into your dream industry: cdc.indiana.edu/possibilities

During his internship at Google, Ryan Perry analyzed AdWords accounts for business opportunities and optimized accounts for nonprofits. The best part? The networking. He pitched an idea to YouTube executives and met potential business partners, which could help him achieve his larger goal: launching a tech start-up before he graduates.

TAKE YOUR CAREER FOR A TEST DRIVE

1,500+ organizations recruit at IU

13 career centers on campus

Services starting your first year.

62% of IU students complete an internship or field experience

succeed

Experiences and guidance for a great career and life
Your return on investment:
half a million connections, a successful career, and a satisfying life (not bad, huh?)

You have big goals. Doing meaningful work. Living a fulfilling life. Being financially secure.
Good news: an IU education will help you do all of this. Our alumni are proof.

Larry Buchanan (journalism ’11) has worked for The New Yorker and written a column for McSweeney’s Internet Tendency, but his career reached new heights when he joined the graphics desk at The New York Times.
Employers of recent IU grads include:

Abbott Laboratories
Alzheimer’s Disease Resource Center
Berlin Philharmonic
Boys and Girls Clubs of America
City of Indianapolis
CNN
Disney
DuPont
Eli Lilly and Company
ESPN
General Motors
Goldman Sachs
Houston Astros
Indiana Department of Transportation
International Rescue Committee
Macy’s
Mayo Clinic
Shalom Community Center
Target
United Way
U.S. Department of Energy
U.S. Department of State
Washington Post
Wikimedia Foundation

Ravi Rathi (finance ’10) worked in the Investment Banking Division at Credit Suisse as an intern and then as a full-time analyst. He’s now an associate in Citi’s Leveraged Finance Group.

Natalie Lurie Salzman (music ’14) is a harpist who plays and sings Americana and blues music. In 2014 she released her debut EP, Ebb & Flow.

Executive Director of Health for America, Megan Caldwell (policy analysis and Near Eastern languages and cultures, ’12) empowers young professionals to build innovative solutions that will improve healthcare delivery.

A Rhodes Scholar, Mutsa Mutembwa (mathematics and economics ’10) is a senior associate in Energy and Resources at Deloitte in London.

Josh Stewart (marine biology ’10) is a Ph.D. student at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography, where he studies manta rays using fellowships from the National Science Foundation and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

Join a powerful (and helpful) network of leaders

Our alumni do impressive things—from product marketing at Twitter (Erica Anderson) to bringing Batman to the big screen (Michael Uslan) to inspiring social change (Tavis Smiley). And they’re always looking to help a fellow Hoosier. Connect with them at networking events and when they visit classes and recruit on campus.

Interested in grad school?
The percentages of IU students admitted to law school (94%) and medical school (53%) exceed the national averages (76% and 43%).

DO WHAT YOU LOVE

600,000+

IU alumni

One of the world’s largest alumni networks, at your service.
How to apply: we’ll guide you through the process, step by step

These are the general steps, but there’s more you need to know.

See the complete process and apply: go.iu.edu/apply-iu

---

▶ Step 1: Get ready to apply

Start early to make sure you submit all of your application materials on time.

- Review our admission standards, application process, and priority dates online so you know what to submit and when you will receive a decision.
- The scholarship deadline is November 1—you must submit a complete application for admission (including official transcript and test scores) by this date to be considered for IU Achievement and Selective Scholarships.

▶ Step 2: Complete your application

Review our helpful tips at go.iu.edu/apply-tips before you get started.

- Complete the online application.
- Ask your high school to send us your official transcript. (If your transcript does not include your cumulative GPA, your counselor must also submit the Counselor Signature Form or the Electronic Secondary School Report.)
- Have your ACT and/or SAT scores sent to IU Bloomington directly from the testing agencies. We encourage you to test several times to improve your chances for admission and scholarship eligibility.

▶ Step 3: After you apply

We’ll thoroughly review all of your materials.

- Create your IU computing account so you can check the status of your application online.

---

The crimson envelope please…

If you’re admitted, follow these steps to become a Hoosier and get ready for your first year. See the complete list of steps to enroll for future freshmen: go.iu.edu/enroll-iu

- Pay your $100 enrollment deposit by May 1.
- Apply for housing.
- Attend a Red Carpet Day and celebrate your acceptance with other admitted students.
- Apply for financial aid by March 10 using the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).
- Register for New Student Orientation.
- Connect with other Hoosiers on our Facebook page for admitted students: facebook.indiana.edu

If you are a transfer, intercampus, adult, military/veteran, or second degree applicant or a visiting student, visit our website for your next steps: go.iu.edu/how-apply-iu
How to apply, costs, and scholarships

FYE, your guide for your first year

The Office of First Year Experience Programs (FYE, for short) will guide you during New Student Orientation and your first year at IU, helping you transition from high school and start college strong.

See why U.S. News & World Report named our programs for first-year students among the nation’s best: fye.indiana.edu

Who comes to IU?

Freshman class of 2014

- 7,716 students
- 56.4% Indiana residents, 34.1% students from other U.S. states, 9.5% international students
- 50.2% female, 49.8% male
- 20.4% domestic students of color (African American, Asian American, Latino, American Indian, Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander, or multiracial)
- 68.8% in top quarter of high school class

For info about the new class of IU freshmen, go to go.iu.edu/iu-profile beginning in September.

Dancing, music, and food are the focus at CultureFest, part of FYE’s annual Welcome Week before fall classes begin.

Priority dates

Submit a complete application by one of these priority dates

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Priority Dates</th>
<th>Receive a response no later than the date below</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>November 1</td>
<td>January 15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>February 1</td>
<td>March 15</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

All applications submitted after February 1 will be considered on a space-available, case-by-case basis.

Students admitted for fall 2015

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Test</th>
<th>Middle 50%</th>
<th>Average</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>SAT (Critical Reading and Math)</td>
<td>1110–1290</td>
<td>1201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ACT (Composite)</td>
<td>25–31</td>
<td>27.8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GPA</td>
<td>3.5–4.0</td>
<td>3.7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
How much does IU cost?
What scholarships does IU offer?

Start here, and get more detailed answers at go.iu.edu/iu-finances

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Estimated costs for 2015–16</th>
<th>Indiana residents</th>
<th>Nonresidents</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tuition and fees</td>
<td>$ 10,388</td>
<td>$ 33,740</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Room and board*</td>
<td>$ 9,794</td>
<td>$ 9,794</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Books and supplies*</td>
<td>$ 1,230</td>
<td>$ 1,230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total direct costs</td>
<td>$ 21,412</td>
<td>$ 44,764</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Transportation*</td>
<td>$ 1,030</td>
<td>$ 1,030</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Personal expenses*</td>
<td>$ 2,096</td>
<td>$ 2,096</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total cost of attendance</td>
<td>$ 24,538</td>
<td>$ 47,890</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

These estimates are for full-time undergrads enrolled in 12–18 credit hours per semester in the fall and spring. Most courses are 3 credit hours.

* Actual costs vary by student, based on choice, travel habits, and academic program.

Scholarships and financial aid

- To be considered for IU Achievement and Selective Scholarships, submit a complete application for admission (including official transcript and test scores) by November 1.
- If you receive notification in your admission email that you are eligible to apply for a Selective Scholarship, make sure you submit the application and requested documents by the appropriate deadline.
- Review the steps in the financial aid process in the fall of your senior year.
- If you met the November 1 scholarship deadline, you may submit updated ACT and/or SAT scores until January 15 for additional scholarship consideration.
- Submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) by March 10.

Learn more about scholarships: scholarships.indiana.edu
Learn more about financial aid: studentcentral.indiana.edu

57% of IU Bloomington undergraduates receive grant or scholarship aid
IU IPEDS, 2014

#20 “Best Bang for the Buck” school in the nation (and #1 in the Big Ten)
Washington Monthly, 2014
Sage Steele was 12 years old when she announced at her family’s dinner table that she would one day work at ESPN. From that moment forward, she made it her life’s goal to know as much as humanly possible about sports, especially football and basketball. She knew IU had exactly what she needed to accomplish her goal: she majored in sports communication with a broadcast emphasis at the School of Public Health-Bloomington.

And she wouldn’t change a thing. Since earning her degree 20 years ago, Steele has lived up to her goal: she’s currently in her second season as the host of NBA Countdown—ABC’s and ESPN’s flagship NBA studio show—and is a central contributor to ESPN’s on-site NBA coverage at the NBA Finals, NBA Conference Finals, and NBA All-Star Game.

“This place did it for me.”
We'd love to tell you more about IU

Join our mailing list
Get important info and invitations to special events.
go.iu.edu/join-list

Plan a visit
Tour our gorgeous campus and feel the Hoosier spirit.
go.iu.edu/visit-iu

Explore IU
Learn more about the IU education, life at IU, and how we prepare you for success.
go.iu.edu/explore-iu

Indiana University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity institution. Students who may need disability support services should visit the Disability Services for Students website at disabilityservices.indiana.edu or call (812) 855-7578.

Design, writing, and photography by IU Communications. Additional photography by IU Athletics/Mike Dickbernd, Josh Anderson, Zach Hetrick, Chris Lee, Nicole Wiegand, and Natasha Benfer.